Exams are over!
What next??

Your exams are finally over, you've got big plans to enjoy a well-earned break over the summer months, but what then? University or college feels like the natural step but what if you can't wait to get your career started? There is an alternative which sees you earning and learning at the same time. Apprenticeships are a great way to get your career off to an early start, gaining recognised qualifications and a salary at the same time. At South Holderness Medical Practice we recognise that further education isn't for everyone and we've created an opportunity that allows you to start a rewarding career right now.

Our newest apprenticeship position is within our Patient Services Team. Our Patient Services Team are one of the many functions that keeps our business running making sure that we have a great place to work and everything we need to be able to deliver great patient service. That includes working closely with:

- Doctors,
- Locum GP's
- Nurses
- Healthcare Assistants
- Support staff.

Earn & Learn

We're offering an apprenticeship from September, initially within our administration team which will give you a fantastic grounding in our business and an understanding of how we work, and could be a springboard into a number of exciting opportunities in the future.

As an apprentice in this team you'll enjoy a wide variety of tasks, working closely with more experienced members of our team, who will be only too happy to mentor and guide you through your formal qualification. You'll be given all the time and support you need to study towards your NVQ level 2 in Business Administration.

We're looking for bright, ambitious and enthusiastic individuals with an appetite for learning and who love working as part of team. You'll need a good academic track record, excellent organisational and customer service skills and will be a great communicator. So if you think this sounds like you, and you can rise to the challenge, get in touch, we'd love to tell you more. Call 01964 613221 or email:
